

CANDIDACY FEES

Turkey $30,000

Lebanon $5,289

UK $776

Jordan $705

Egypt $310

Ghana $252

Greece $194

WOMEN IN PARLIAMENTS

#1
Rwanda
2008
Elections
SEATS 45 / 80
56%

#104
Jordan
2013
Elections
SEATS 18 / 148
12%

#4
Sweden
2010
Elections
SEATS 156 / 349
45%

#111
Ghana
2012
Elections
SEATS 30 / 275
11%

#38
France
2012
Elections
SEATS 155 / 577
27%

#131
Sri Lanka
2010
Elections
SEATS 13 / 225
6%

#58
UK
2010
Elections
SEATS 146 / 650
23%

#135
Lebanon
2009
Elections
SEATS 4 / 128
3%

#65
Greece
2012
Elections
SEATS 63 / 300
21%

#138
Egypt
2011
Elections
SEATS 10 / 508
2%

Source: IPU/2013

“The work of women in parliament can be facilitated by forming strategic partnerships. As men form the majority of members in parliaments, and dominate leadership positions in political parties, they are important partners in garnering support for implementing change. In addition, the views of both women and men are needed for the development of gender-sensitive legislation.”