POLITICAL RIGHTS OF PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES IN LEBANON POLITICAL RIGHTS OF PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES
IN LEBANON
In 2016, there were 98,000 registered persons with disabilities in Lebanon, representing an estimated three percent of Lebanon’s population. They face many challenges, including legal and administrative barriers to political participation, while lack of access is present in elections as well as in political parties and political expression. Initiatives to increase their participation in elections and decision-making processes are also limited.

Political participation of persons with disabilities has been outlined in a series of international and regional human rights conventions. Among them is the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD), which was first to elaborate the right to participate in political and public life in the context of disability and to provide specific guidance to States. Lebanon signed the CRPD in 2007 but has yet to ratify it, and the hope is to improve the level of participation of persons with disabilities in the political life and facilitate their accessibility to electoral process.

At the UN, we commit ourselves to inclusiveness. The 2030 Agenda and Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) aim to be more inclusive with the main objective to “leave no one behind” including protecting persons with disabilities and promoting their rights.

UNDP in Lebanon has partnered with the Government and civil society organizations towards enhancing accessibility and promoting international inclusive standards for persons with disabilities. For the upcoming parliamentary elections, our program will aim to lift legal and administrative barriers to political participation; raise awareness of the right to political participation of persons with disabilities; make voting procedures, facilities and election materials more accessible; build capacity and increase participation for Persons with Disabilities in elections, and in political life at large.

FOREWORD

Let’s reap the fruits of past experiences to attain democracy

There has been a remarkable development in Lebanon with respect to the right of persons with disabilities to exercise political rights and to vote and stand for election freely and independently. In order to benefit from the accumulation of work, expertise and knowledge in the matter among the organizations which care for persons with disabilities, the Ministry concerned, and the international organizations which are experts on the subject and which support Lebanon, an in-depth analysis is required. Since parliamentary elections are imminent, it is essential to prepare for these elections in a comprehensive manner that ensures all people, including the elderly and the persons with disabilities, have the opportunity to vote and stand for election independently and with dignity.

Therefore, it is necessary to exert efforts towards the implementation of the necessary specifications and criteria to the polling stations, which of course requires a long-term plan that cannot be fully executed within the limited time period available. Polling stations are usually positioned in schools, places of worship, and places of public use; hence the need for coordination among stakeholders.

There are also needs relevant to the level and the mechanisms of communication for people who are blind or deaf, and people with additional needs or intellectual disabilities, for whom the information has to be simplified and clarified. These varied needs require technical measures which are applicable thanks to the goodwill of stakeholders, the knowledge and experience of the organizations that care for the persons with disabilities, and the support of international organizations operating in Lebanon. Yet, there are needs for training capable staff who can handle operational processes and devices and empowering them so that they can manage the electoral process with confidence, effectiveness, and quality, knowing that the tools and skills are available to train them.

Consequently, we believe that the upcoming elections should provide strategic solutions, in the sense that they must ensure minimum standards of integration, at the level of the buildings in this respect, we can benefit from the field survey that we have previously conducted the process and mechanism in terms of adapting the ballot paper, building capacities and raising awareness. It is extremely important that the process ensures an ideal model in some locations where it can be done. The entire process will constitute the basic material to be converted into a national plan with an estimate budget, specifications, and criteria that will be included in the State Budget for 2018. Thus, the State would have begun to turn the rights preserved in the law into reality.

Only then will we be freed from the predicament of time in which the stakeholders are trapped, and we will have moved from limited initiatives to a sustainable national policy. Only then will the country have been truly able to maintain democracy and human rights.

CRPD ON PARTICIPATION IN POLITICAL AND PUBLIC LIFE

Article 29

States Parties shall guarantee to persons with disabilities political rights and the opportunity to enjoy them on an equal basis with others, and shall undertake to:

a) Ensure that persons with disabilities can effectively and fully participate in political and public life on an equal basis with others, directly or through freely chosen representatives, including the right and opportunity for persons with disabilities to vote and be elected, inter alia, by:
1) Ensuring that voting procedures, facilities and materials are appropriate, accessible and easy to understand and use;

2) Protecting the right of persons with disabilities to vote by secret ballot in elections and public referendums without intimidation, and to stand for elections, to effectively hold office and perform all public functions at all levels of government, facilitating the use of assistive and new technologies where appropriate;

b) Promote actively an environment in which persons with disabilities can effectively and fully participate in the conduct of public affairs, without discrimination and on an equal basis with others, and encourage their participation in public affairs, including:

1) Participation in non-governmental organizations and associations concerned with the public and political life of the country, and in the activities and administration of political parties;

2) Forming and joining organizations of persons with disabilities to represent persons with disabilities at international, national, regional and local levels.

THE LEBANESE CONSTITUTION

Article 7
“All Lebanese shall be equal before the law. They shall equally enjoy civil and political rights and shall equally be bound by public obligations and duties without any distinction”.

LAW 220/2000 ON THE RIGHTS OF PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

The Lebanese Law on disability 220/2000 defines a disabled individual as follows: “A disabled individual is a person whose capacity to perform one or more vital functions, independently, secure his personal existential needs, participate in social activities on an equal basis with others, and live a personal and social life that is normal by existing social standards, is reduced or non-existent because of a partial or complete, permanent or temporary, bodily, sensory or intellectual functional loss or incapacity, that is the outcome of a congenital or acquired illness or from a pathological condition that has been prolonged beyond normal medical expectations”(Article 2).

LAW 220/2000 POLITICAL RIGHTS & PARTICIPATION

Article 98
Special principles for electoral processes:
“The needs of people with disabilities are taken into account when organizing all municipal, parliamentary and other electoral processes. These procedures shall be issued by a decree approved by the Council of Ministers upon the proposal of the Ministry of Interior after consultation with the Ministry of Social Affairs”.

Article 33
Rights Range:
1. Every disabled person has the right to an accessible environment, in the sense that every disabled person has the right to access any place accessible to him/her by the disabled person.

2. All buildings, infrastructure and public and private administrations intended for public use shall have their engineering specifications applicable to the standards and in accordance with the conditions and principles set forth in this law.
Article 96:
Voters with special needs

1. In accordance with the provisions of the law on the Rights of People with Disabilities, voters with special needs or suffering from “disability” preventing them from marking their choice and placing the ballot paper inside the envelope and casting it in the ballot box may be assisted by another voter of their choice, under the supervision of the polling station officers. Such occurrence shall be noted in the “comments” column on the checklist.

2. The Ministry shall take into account the needs of people with disabilities when organizing elections and facilitate the procedures allowing them to exercise their right to vote unobstructed.

The Ministry shall establish the implementation regulations of the present Article upon consultation with the specialized associations for people with disabilities.

Reservation:
The Lebanese Physical Handicapped Union through the Observatory for the Rights of Persons with Disabilities in Lebanon expressed its reservation on Article 96 of Law 44/2017 and its content:

1. Conceptually: The perception of disabled people in the elections is still limited to them being voters. The Lebanese legislator did not anticipate that the disabled citizen could be a candidate, a candidate delegate, an observer, a head of polling station, or a deputy head of polling station.

2. Terminologically: The abusive terms used to talk about persons with disabilities, including the use of the word "disabled" instead of the disabled person / people, the use of the phrase "people with special needs" that exceeds the threshold of disability to enclose a wide category of people, as well as the use of the worst expression, "one who has an incapacitating deformity".

3. Technically: With reference to ignoring Executive Decree No. 2214/2009 regarding the procedures and measures related to facilitating the participation of persons with disabilities in the parliamentary and municipal elections, which was supposed to be implemented during the last eight years.

CHALLENGES
FACED BY PWD IN THE INCLUSION AND PARTICIPATION IN ELECTIONS

X Lack of data and statistics on PWD voters that leads to their marginalization during the election process.

X Lack of accessibility and limited action of the responsible ministries to accommodate and rehabilitate polling stations in Lebanon.

X Inadequate policies and standards for the PWD inclusion in the electoral process.

X Lack of regular consultation and involvement of the PWD in their political rights and participation.

X Insufficient capacity building and empowerment programs dedicated to PWD.

X Non-Ratification of Lebanese state on the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD) hinders the rights of PWD.

X No adoption for the inclusive standards to guarantee the participation of PWD in the electoral processes.

X Non application of the Braille method and sign language on voting guidelines and voter information for PWD.

X No implementation of measures to secure the free and secret voting for PWD.

X The PWD registration system and the issuance of the PWD paper card should be upgraded by MoSA.
